

Use this guide as you read and finish a script. Be creative & use your imagination even if you do not find text to support your answers. Do your own research. Be thoughtful about your answers.

1. Where does the scene take place? How does the environment affect your performance? What do you see, smell, hear & touch?
2. What is the overall essence of the scene? (eg: Energetic, nervous, anxious). How do the other characters affect your mood. What is your relationship with other characters?
3. What is your main want? Remember it can be simple or drastic but use script analysis to inform your decision. (Want: I want complete power, I want love, I want the answer, etc.)
4. What is happening in the scene? How does this impact your character going forward? What are the main points of the scene? Explore the ideas.
5. Who is your character? What do they like/dislike? How do they dress, move, talk? Build the character in your mind.
